

Mild as the Moonbeams

A Duet

for a Treble & Tenor.

Arranged for the Piano Forte

BY A. TAYLOR.

38 Cents.

Price

New York, Engraved, Printed & Sold by, E. Riley, 2D, Chatham Street

LARGO.

To death mid burn - ing sands must my Tenore. Treble.

Ka - is fly Oh heed her tear oh listen to her sigh To death mid burn - ing sands

ah! must my Ka - is fly oh heed her tear oh listen to her sigh oh heed her

In eag - ly life so soon to die save from death my Ka. is save.

tear oh listen to her sigh oh listen to her sigh oh listen to her sigh save from death my Ka. is save.)

Entered according to Act of Congress, the first day of May 1823, by Edward Riley of the State of New York

MODERATO CON ESPRESSIONE.

Treble
Mild as the moon-beams which on fountains trem-ble And sad as nightingales

Piano
Forte

mourn their young Mild as the moon-beams which on fountains trem-ble

Mild as the moon-beams which on fountains trem-ble

And sad as nightingales mourn their young and sad as nightingales

And sad as nightingales mourn their young and and sad as nightingales and sad as nightingales mourn their young and sad as sad - - - and sad and sad as nightingales mourn their young nightingales and sad as nightingales and sad as nightingales mourn their and sad and sad and sad as nightingales mourn their young they mourn their young they mourn their young

young they mourn their young they mourn their young Mild as the moon beams which on fountains trem - ble And sad as nightingales mourn their young

Mild as the moon - beams which on fountains trem - ble

Mild as the moon - beams which on fountains trem - ble

And sad as night - ingales mourn their young mourn - - -

And sad as night - ingales mourn their young mourn - - -

- their young mourn

- their young mourn - - -

- their young.

- their young. p pp